LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE

Willard H. Pedrick Dean

Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law, Arizona State University 2023-present

Chief executive officer and chief academic officer of the College of Law, based in downtown Phoenix with programs and centers in Washington D.C. and Los Angeles. Responsible for defining and implementing ASU Law's strategic priorities by leveraging partnerships across the ASU and with stakeholders within the local, national, and global legal and business communities.

Vice Chancellor for Economic Development

University of Arkansas 2017-2020

Envisioned, planned and implemented the Division of Economic Development to amplify the university's economic impact and community engagement. Streamlined moving faculty research to market by leading system-wide and campus policy reforms. Administered intellectual property portfolios and substantially increased technology and knowledge transfer. Attracted and deployed funding for faculty inventors and startup companies. Collaborative leadership with deans and directors across ten colleges, six division units and a research and technology park.

Dean, University of Arkansas School of Law2011-2018

First five-year term noted for innovation, increased national prominence, and expanded student success programming. Achieved highest-ever law school rankings: No. 1 Best Value in Legal Education (2014 National Jurist) and No. 33 among public law schools (2015 U.S. News). Reappointed with unanimous support for second five-year term in 2016. Planned and executed successful eight-year capital fundraising campaign. Expanded J.D. and graduate programs including first online degree program. Enhanced faculty governance and facilitated reform in faculty status and equitable salary structure. Nationally recognized as a leader in diversity and inclusion. Points of pride: exceptional financial operating efficiency; mentoring other deans, faculty and staff; and investing in students.
